

Extended Cookies Policy

We collect cookies which are text files containing small amounts of information that are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. Cookies are widely used in order to make websites work, to provide information to the owners of the site and to improve the users' experience. In particular, we collect:

- technical cookies, that are necessary to operate the website and provide our services as they provide basic functionality such as loading, rendering pages on the Site and enabling your navigation around the website and use of certain features;
- functional cookies, that allow the user to navigate with a set of selected criteria (such as language, text characters, browser type) in order to improve the service rendered;
- analytical cookies, used to collect information, in aggregate and anonymous form, on the number of users and how they use the website, in order to maintain, operate and continually improve the Site.

The Site also use technical cookies to keep track of the consent given by the user when this is required, such as the consent for processing of personal data and the consent for the General Terms and Conditions of the Site.

You can choose to disable technical cookies at any time, but this operation may prevent you from accessing some parts of the Site.

We use Google Analytics which is a web analytics tool that helps us understand how users engage with our Site. Google Analytics uses first-party cookies to track user interactions as in our case, where they are used to collect information about how users use our Site. This information is used to help us improve the Site without identifying individual visitors. You can opt out of Google Analytics without affecting how you visit our site. For information on opting out of being tracked by Google Analytics, visit this Google page: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

How to enable and disable cookies using your browser

Chrome:

1. Click on the Chrome menu button on the browser bar.
2. Click "Settings"
3. Scroll down and click "Advanced".
4. In the Privacy and security section, click Content Settings.
5. Click Cookies.
6. Click on "See all cookies and site data".
7. Select the cookies that you want to remove.

Mozilla Firefox:

1. Click the menu button Menu icon.

2. Click “Options”.
3. Click “Privacy & Security”.
4. This is where you can view your settings for Content Blocking, which includes cookies.

Internet Explorer:

1. Click “Tools” or the gear icon at the top of the browser window.
2. Select “Internet Options”.
3. Click the Privacy tab and, under “Settings”, the “Advanced” button.
4. Choose whether you want to accept, block, or be prompted for first-party and third-party cookies.

Safari:

1. Click Safari > Preferences.
2. Click on the Privacy tab.
3. In the "Cookies and website data" section.
4. Choose your preferred Cookies setting.

Other browsers

Look for a “help” function in the browser or contact the browser provider